

FAILED TO PUT THIS JOB OVER

CONGRESSMAN MOSS AND STATE GEOLOGIST BARRETT SEE TO IT THAT CANDIDATE GETTING HIGHEST GRADE IN CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATION GETS CLAYTON POSTOFFICE.

APPOINTMENT IS RESCINDED

Representative Ralph W. Moss of the Fifth District and Edward Barrett, Indiana state geologist, a combination of energetic and forceful result getters, are able to point to a victory for the Democratic party in rescinding the appointment of a Republican postmistress at Clayton, Ind., and the appointment in her stead of an eligible who not only is a Democrat but whose examination average is .35 of a per cent. better than the first appointee.

Oscar Harrison, Republican postmaster at Clayton, died early in the year. An examination was held to fill Harrison's place, under the blanket order of Taft covering fourth-class postoffices. Miss Frankie L. Van Ardale, a Democrat, received an average rating of 81.50. Miss Wilma N. Harrison, Republican, received 81.35. Miss Harrison was appointed March 15. She is a sister of the former postmaster and has served many years in the Clayton postoffice. The Postoffice Department chose her because of her postoffice experience, according to Daniel C. Roper, first assistant postmaster general. However, at the demand of Representative Moss, who went to the reinforcement of Geologist Edward Barrett, the appointment of Miss Harrison not only was held up, but was rescinded. The place pays $1,000 a year.

It is intimated that Mr. Barrett and other Democrats interested in the disputed office that a holdover Republican clerk, without consulting the new Democratic postmaster general attempted to retain Miss Harrison, a Republican, in a classified job.

COMMITTEE WILL ASK ASSISTANCE FOR VIGO.

Terre Haute Men Will Appeal to Governor for Aid for Twice Stricken People.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., March 31.—A committee representing the tornado and flood sufferers of Vigo County and composed of John E. Lamb, attorney; A. Herz, department store proprietor, and L. W. Henley, managing editor of the Star, has been named to appeal to Governor Ralston for funds to assist the victims of the winds and waters. This committee will go to Indianapolis Wednesday morning equipped with facts and figures regarding the dual calamity that visited this city and county last week.

This afternoon the committee conferred with representatives of the various building and loan associations and insurance agencies. After this conference it was announced that the committee had accepted $500,000 as a conservative estimate of the damage done in the city of Terre Haute by the tornado alone. This does not include the damage done at Gardentown southwest of the city, where the damage is figured at $100,000.

City Raises $20,000.

Householders in the path of the tornado carried about $150,000 insurance. It is estimated that it will take at least $75,000 to care for the people left homeless in the wake of the tornado. About $20,000 has been raised in Terre Haute, and it is hoped that a liberal contribution will come through Governor Ralston.

The water has not receded sufficiently in West Terre Haute to permit of an accurate estimate of the flood damage. It is generally believed, however, that it will reach $100,000. The whole town was under water. It is believed that the damage to railroads, grades and bridges in this county will total another $200,000. Miscellaneous damage it is generally figured will bring the total loss from wind and water in this county close to $2,000,000.

The local committee is in a position to care for all temporary demands, and health officials are taking extra precaution to prevent the spread of disease.

THE CONGRESSMAN IS IN ROACHDALE

RALPH W. MOSS, TOGETHER WITH JAMES L. RANDEL AND ARTHUR HAMRICK, SPENT MONDAY IN NORTH PUTNAM TOWN, INVESTIGATING POSTOFFICE SITUATION.

NO ANNOUNCEMENTS MADE

Congressman Ralph W. Moss, with County Chairman Arthur Hamrick, and District Chairman James L. Randel, spent all day Monday and Monday evening in Roachdale, taking up the matter of the postoffice situation there with the several candidates and their friends.

During the day and evening more than a hundred Democrats saw Congressman Moss and expressed to him their preference of the several candidates. The office of Charley McCaughey was headquarters during the day and evening and there was not a minute from the time Mr. Moss reached Roachdale until after 1 o'clock last night that someone was not with him.

The candidates who personally saw the Congressman were John Shannon, W. C. Branes, Lawrence Darnell, Porter Blaydes, Gilbert Wilson, Otto Stewart and Fred Rice. It is reported that Mr. Rice, Mr. Blaydes and Mr. Wilson are said to be in the lead and it is intimated that one of these men will get the appointment. One of the Roachdale candidates stated this morning that the announcement of his recommendation would be made by the first of next week.

This morning Congressman Moss, Mr. Randel and Mr. Hamrick returned to Greencastle. Mr. Moss planned to go to Brownsburg today and take up the situation there. When he arrived in Greencastle, however, several men were awaiting them, among them Judge Brill, of Danville and the entire morning was taken up in interviews. It is presumed that Judge Brill was here in the interest of some Brownsburg candidate.

It is probable that Mr. Moss will decide on all of the remaining appointments in his district before he returns to Washington next Monday.

TEACHERS MAY NOT MEET.

Executive Committee Will Decide on Question Tonight.

President H. G. Brown of the Northern Indiana Teachers' Association from his home at Lebanon, yesterday sent out a call for a special meeting of the executive committee of the association, to be held at the Claypool Hotel in Indianapolis tonight at 7:30 o'clock. At this meeting the executive committee will decide as to the holding of the spring meeting of the association, which has been set to convene in Indianapolis April 3, 4 and 5. Superintendent of Public Instruction Charles A. Great-house got in touch with Mr. Brown with the idea of obtaining the widest possible view of the flood situation in Indiana before proceeding with the convention of teachers. It is understood there will be an effort to bring about a postponement of the convention because of the possibility of a very small attendance by reason of uncertain transportation conditions.—Indianapolis Star.

LOOSE BRUIN CAUSES SCARE NEAR CRAWFORDSVILLE, IND.

Farmers living near Garfield, four miles north of Crawfordsville, organized a bear hunt when a traveling bruin appeared on the farm of George Enoch. It is not known from whence it escaped. The farmers in the vicinity were called by telephone and the first ones to answer the call were able to get several shots at the bear before it fled. It is not believed that the animal was even wounded and people in the immediate neighborhood stayed close within their homes tonight.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hillis were expected home from an extended visit through the west, this afternoon.

FIRST PRAYER MEETING HELD YESTERDAY AFTERNOON

Mrs. J. G. Campbell conducted the Sabbath Observance Prayer meeting, Monday afternoon. The sub-topic was "The Sabbath as a Day of Rest." The scripture reading was from Exodus 20:8 and Jeremiah 17:21-7. "God promised prosperity to the people of Jerusalem, if they would do traffic on the Sabbath day; but if they did not keep the day sacred he promised them trouble and disaster. All days are God's days, yet even non-Christians who are patriotic citizens ought to keep the Sabbath day because we claim to be a nation whose God is the Lord. He is the all-wise ruler of the universe and we ought to do it because he asked us to, because he thought it necessary. The thought was brought out that it was His love that prompted this beneficent plan for our physical welfare. There are more promises, more rewards offered for the keeping of the Sabbath than for any other of the ten commandments in Old Testament scriptures. The main reason for keeping the Sabbath is that God has asked us to; if we do not keep it, others cannot."

Everyone, both men and women, are invited to these meetings, whether affiliated with the W. C. T. U. or not. They are held for the purpose of creating Sabbath observance sentiment and are under the direction of Mrs. J. P. John, superintendent of that department in the Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

INTERURBAN RESUMES REGULAR SCHEDULE.

The interurban this morning resumed its regular schedule, running the limited as well as the local cars. The cars are entering the traction station at Indianapolis. Several slides in cuts between here and Terre Haute which at first caused delay, have been cleared and everything now is in perfect running order. The interurban is doing quite a business taking stranded traveling men into Indianapolis and Terre Haute from towns along the line and taking people to the two cities to view the ruins caused by the storms and floods.

ELKS ENTERTAIN AT DANCE LAST EVENING.

Members of the Elks lodge entertained at a dance last evening in the lodge's dance hall. Forty or more couples, including several out-of-town guests, were present. The music was furnished by the Bert V. Mitchell orchestra of Indianapolis. Among those from out-of-town here for the event were Miss World, of Clayton; Miss Tineher, of Amo; Melville McHaffie, of Stilesville, and Dr. and Mrs. C. S. Black, of Warren.

BIG FOUR THROUGH TRAINS MAKE DETOUR.

The Big Four through trains, which have been tied up because of the big washout west of the Wabash bridge at Terre Haute, are now detouring from Indianapolis, going over the Peoria division of their own line to Danville Ill., and then across to Paris, Ill., where they again go onto the main line. This detour will be made by all St. Louis-New York trains until repairs are made at Terre Haute.

In Memory.

In loving remembrance of Joseph Cline, who departed this life April 5, 1912.
We miss thee from our home, dear father,
We miss thee from thy place;
A shadow o'er our hearts is cast,
We miss thy kind and willing hands,
Thy fond and tender care.
Our home is sad and lonely without thee,
We miss thee everywhere.
Often do we think of you,
For to us you have been kind and true,
Never shall thy memory fade
Sweetest thoughts shall linger,
'Round thy grave where you are laid.
One year has passed,
Oh! how we miss you.
Friends may think the wound is healed,
Little do they know the sorrow
That lies within our hearts concealed.

Boys, don't miss the water sale on Spring Caps for 25c at the Fashion.

HOW ABOUT THIS FOR JUSTICE?

MAYOR BRAY AND OTHER BRAZIL CITY OFFICIALS CONDEMNED FOR ALLOWING PICTURE SHOWS TO OPERATE ON SUNDAY WHEN PROCEEDS WERE TO BE TURNED OVER TO FLOOD SUFFERERS.

GRAND JURY TAKES IT UP

A peculiar condition exists at Brazil. Three moving picture shows in that city operated Sunday giving the receipts, totalling $125.27, to the flood sufferers relief fund in Terre Haute. The shows were given permission to run by Mayor Bryan, providing that the money paid in admission be turned over to the fund for the suffering in Terre Haute. But church congregations failed to see the charitable side of the action. So Sunday evening resolutions condemning the moving picture shows and Mayor Bray were passed in several of the Brazil churches. Not stopping at this, the Clay county grand jury has been called and, it is said, will return indictments against the show proprietors.

In regard to the matter, the Brazil Times, in part, says:

"The Colonial Arc and Princess moving picture shows were run Sunday afternoon for the benefit of the tornado and flood sufferers of Terre Haute and $125.27, the total receipts of the three shows, was obtained as a donation to the fund. As a result resolutions were passed in the churches condemning the Sunday picture shows for any purpose, also Mayor Bray, who is a candidate for the appointment of United States marshal.

"The city officials acted as doorkeepers of the shows and accepted the donations at the doors. No stipulated price was put on the shows but people generally donated amounts from five cents to a quarter of a dollar. Mayor John Bray and Councilman John Dersch presided at the Colonial theater; Chief of Police Wm Brown and Councilman A. J. Frisz presided at the Arc and City Treasurer Edward French and Patrolman Duncan took the donations at the Princess Theater. The shows were well attended.

"Sunday morning a committee from the First Methodist Church called on Mayor Bray and asked him to prevent the shows from operating, declaring that this is a means of 'breaking the ice' in Brazil and having other Sunday shows. The mayor refused, saying that the proceeds were to go to a very worthy purpose to help the suffering, which he termed a religious movement and he endorsed the shows. Prosecuting Attorney B. M. Robinson was then appealed to and this official gave his opinion that the state laws prevent Sunday shows for any purpose and he advised the owners not to operate them. On their refusal Robinson said that the matter would then be referred to the grand jury for investigation.

"The picture show men say that they have no idea of attempting to continue to operate their shows on Sunday and had no intention of operating Sunday until they were appealed to by a number of citizens, many of whom are or friends relatives of the scores of former Brazilians who are in destitute circumstances at West Terre Haute because of the flood. The entire proceeds went to the relief fund and not even the piano players, nor machine operators were paid each donating his or her services for the cause. The moving picture show owners paid for the electricity used and for other expenses, so that the shows were entirely without profit to them.

"The opinion of citizens as to the right or wrong of operating the shows on Sunday seems to be varied and many good people have expressed themselves that this is an emergency case when Sunday shows should not be condemned, but they are opposed to further operations of the shows on the Sabbath. Mayor

SEND TELEGRAM FOR MORE WARE

GIFT OFFER IS SO POPULAR WITH PUTNAM COUNTY PEOPLE THAT RUSH ORDER FOR MORE SETS IS SENT—NOW IS THE TIME TO GET IT.

GPUNTY PEOPLE A PLEARED

"Please rush two cases of Hoosier Best Enamel Ware."

This was the telegram sent from this office Monday to the manufacturers of the 5-piece sets this paper is now giving away to its subscribers.

The first order was a big one and it was expected that it would be enough to last several weeks. But the Putnam county people are more enthusiastic over the gift offer than had been expected, and the first thing we knew we were running short on Enamel Ware Sets.

We now have plenty, however, and those who come to the office within the next week need not fear that they will not get one.

The management of the paper is great pleased that the people of Putnam county should so readily express their pleasure and appreciation of

WILL ADD NEW DEPARTMENT

You will probably be interested in knowing that we have today bought the stock of art goods, flosses, stamped pieces, etc., of Mrs. Zaharakos who has had her Royal Society Art shop in the rear of the Greek Candy store for some time. She has been compelled on account of her health to give up her work in the shop. She has a well selected line, and is composed of many beautiful things. Mrs. Zaharakos is herself quite accomplished in embroidering and needle work of all kinds, and her work is indeed very handsome. Many of the embroidered pieces that you will find on sale here will be furnished by her.

If you will notice in our window tomorrow you can get an idea of what can be found in this new department. In the window will also be shown several of the embroidered pieces worked by Mrs. Zaharakos, among them is one valued at $200.00.

You people who do fancy work will find this department of great interest to you. This department is located in the front of the store directly behind the show window. Won't you come in we will be pleased to show you at any time.

OBSERVING STREET ETIQUETTE.

A Few Suggestions Which Are Always Worth Bearing in Mind.

In no place are good manners more important than on the street. Strangers must, of course, judge you by what they see in passing. A loud, boisterous manner will necessarily cause those who do not know you well to regard you unfavorably and imagine you at least be lacking in the necessary refinement and courtesy of a gentleman.

If you are indifferent to the opinions of mere strangers and allow yourself to become careless in your public conduct you may unexpectedly be observed by some one whose opinion you respect and whom you particularly wish to please.

Therefore, the best plan to follow is to always act with dignity and reserve on the street.

When you pass and repass acquaintances several times it is not necessary to exchange greetings after the first recognition.

Avoid mentioning names as much as possible when talking to your friends or acquaintances in public, and never exchange confidences when strangers are around.

Remember, much harm is done by the gossip which is started by the repeating of a conversation accidentally overheard.

Do not block up a passageway or the sidewalk by stopping to talk to a friend. If you must stop for a chat, step to one side or walk along together in some place where you will not interfere with passersby.

If a man wishes to talk with a woman whom he may meet on the street he should turn and walk with her; never stop her and expect her to stand and converse with you.

Never stare at people as they pass, and above all remember not to do so if the person has any peculiarity or physical deformity; it is the very height of ill-breeding to do this.

Never point to objects in passing, and do not inconvenience pedestrians by walking abreast on a crowded sidewalk.

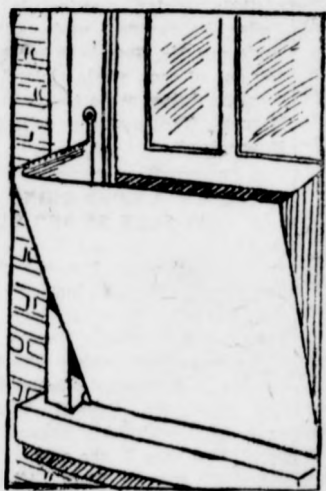

It is a woman's privilege to bow first when passing a man, but under no circumstances should she show any recognition of a man whom she may see standing in a club window.

In fact, courtesy and dignity of manner is always a sign of good breeding.

Let me advise you to make it a study, and if you do I can promise you that you will never regret it.

Window Ventilator.

Fresh air cranks have been endeavoring the past few years to educate the public in the proper use of fresh air. As a rule people are not averse to plenty of fresh air, but they are strongly opposed to drafts. To properly ventilate a room so that all drafts will be avoided is a difficult problem. To successfully do so means the purchase of costly apparatus. A very simple arrangement has recently been patented by a Pennsylvania inventor, as is shown Ventilation Without Drafts.

In the accompanying illustration. This ventilator was designed to admit the entrance of any amount of fresh air, but at the same time to prevent the air from flowing in gusts. When a window is raised, the wind blows directly into the room. This is impossible with this ventilator, the front serving as a shield. All air must come down through the open top, any force which it may have being broken before it reaches the room. The ventilator is supported on hooks on the outside of the window frame, the amount of ventilation being regulated by raising and lowering the window the distance desired.

About Colors.

The study of color will be one of the sciences of the future. Experts say that every known shade has its effect on health and character, and the most valuable are the primary hues—red, blue and yellow.

It is worthy of note that all women who have made history clothed themselves brilliantly. Cleopatra—the "serpent of old Nile"—loved yellow; Mme. de Pompadour loved pink and blue, and the ill-fated Empress Josephine used to wear black and white and emerald green—that smartest of all color combinations.

And in these days some of our great actresses know the value of color; among others, Mrs. Patrick Campbell and Mme. Sarah Bernhardt.

Two wire hairpins used together make a good substitute for a button hook when one is not to be had, for when two are used they will not be bent out of shape.

A WOMAN OF THE PLAIN TYPE

The New Mistress of the White House Has Never Appeared in an Imported Gown.

ALWAYS A CONSERVATIVE BUYER.

Does Her Own Marketing and Never Has Had a Secretary or Housekeeper.—Hats Not Always Becoming. Knows Just What She Wants.

Washington, D. C.—In the matter of clothes the next mistress of the White House is a woman of the plain type. While Mrs. Taft is always well and usually handsomely gowned her clothes are never the first thing which attracts the attention of the stranger. Her taste runs to the plain cloth and rich silks. She is emphatically not the tailor-made, silk-lined woman. Her favorite colors for the street are brown and gray and for evening wear pink, almost invariably.

She has never appeared in an imported gown. She has had a number of evening gowns made of the fascinating, filmy Philippine fabrics, which she brought back to the States with her after her long residence in Manila. And yet she brought only what she might have actual need of in the near future. She purchases only what she can see a use for. Mrs. Taft has never been wealthy. Her money is always spent judiciously.

Mrs. Taft patronizes always the conservative establishments. Good value for the money is what she looks for first in shopping. She rarely goes into the cheap stores, except for unimportant articles, which careful women know how to buy.

During her residence in Washington she has done her purchasing mainly in the shops along F street. When in Cincinnati, she buys there. She has been known to patronize the tailor in Baltimore who sometimes makes gowns for Mrs. Roosevelt and Mrs. Metcalf, and she also patronizes the Sisters of St. Rose Industrial School in Washington, who are famous for their handmade French underwear.

It is in her hats that Mrs. Taft is somewhat lacking, as she often gets unbecomingly ones. She has not appeared in Washington in large hats, ever; they run in fashion to the English or walking styles. Of gloves she wears a six and a quarter. Mrs. Taft has one failing in wearing her clothes. Her skirts frequently do not "set" well.

Mrs. Taft and her daughter are both careful buyers. In doing holiday shopping, they rarely are guilty of purchasing useless trifles. They go about months before the holiday week, and by the time other shoppers are beginning to think of buying, their gifts are bought and carefully put away, carefully labeled, awaiting the auspicious day. In this respect Mrs. Taft is much like Mrs. Roosevelt, only that Mrs. Roosevelt does much of her gift shopping in the jewelry shops, while Mrs. Taft is more apt to look in the department or notion stores.

While both Mrs. Roosevelt and Mrs. Taft frequently visit the shopping districts, one must know them personally to recognize them, so unostentatiously do they go about. Instead of dashing up to a shop in a carriage, they walk briskly along the street, accompanied usually by some favored friend, always choosing the morning hours, when the crowd is not so large.

As buyers, Mrs. Roosevelt and Mrs. Taft are unlike, for the latter always knows exactly what she wants and can see at a glance how nearly an article can answer her purpose. She needs no advice, except occasionally that of her daughter. Mrs. Roosevelt rather prefers to consult some one else's taste and judgment.

The Taft household is dominated by the mistress of it except when the master of it is in it. As a matter of fact, he does not dominate it then, but only thinks he does. It is only the clever woman who can create that delusion. Mrs. Taft does her own marketing. She has never had a social secretary nor a housekeeper, nor has she done her household buying over the telephone except in emergency.

Equip Locomotive with Wireless.

Omaha, Neb.—Dr. H. Milliner, an electrician in the Union Pacific shops, equipped a locomotive with a wireless device which enabled train despatchers and station agents to signal engineers between stations, thus putting them practically in constant touch with running trains.

Insignia Not for Advertising.

Washington, D. C.—The Commissioner of Patents holds that the protection of the law will not be given to any manufacturer who includes in his trade mark the arms of the United States or those of the various States or cities of the country. Not even parts of the coat of arms or their public devices will be registered.

The Horse Nearly Abolished.

Milwaukee, Wis.—This city has almost abolished the use of horses in all municipal departments.

NOVELTY IN WRITING TABLE.

Compartment for Paper and Pencils Under the Top.

A Chicago man has devised an exceedingly useful combination writing desk and table, an illustration of which is shown below. Although at all times convenient, individual writing desks are not used to any great extent at the present time. The ordinary table usually serves the purpose, paper and pencils being placed in a nearby drawer. How much more useful the table shown here would be. This table has an open top, fitting into which is the triangular drawer. The latter is divided into small compartments for holding pens, pencils paper and other writing accessories. When not used as a writing desk, the drawer is lowered and the top of the table pushed back in guide ways, completely hiding the drawer from view. The table can then be used as the ordinary small table for reading, etc.

Baby Must Sleep Alone.

More than three-quarters of a young baby's life is spent in sleep, and upon the restfulness of it depends much of the child's future strength, says the New York Telegram. This being the case, it is certainly important that the sleep should be the right kind. One of the errors of young mothers is to believe that if a baby sleeps it is surely resting. This is far from being the case, for if the crib is not comfortable and the ventilation as it should be slumber does not do for the child what it should.

One of the most important of all things is that a baby should sleep alone. I know this seems like a cold-blooded edict, and to many mothers a senseless one until they understand the reason.

First and foremost, there is always danger of a baby's being smothered when in the bed at night with another person. As a matter of fact, the death rate among infants from suffocation in this way is by no means small.

It is a well known fact that when two persons sleep together the stronger absorbs the vitality of the weaker, and that is what you cannot help doing to your baby. It cannot be as strong and lusty a child as it will be without this drain upon its constitution.

Omen of the Wedding Ring.

At the close of a recent divorce case a woman spectator remarked:

"I knew they wouldn't pull together very long. The crease made by her wedding ring proved that. When she had been married six months I saw her take her ring off one day. The mark it had left was so faint you could hardly see it. You can always gauge the length of a marriage by the impression made by the wedding ring. In some cases the ring, even though entirely too large, sinks away into the finger. Such a mark as that indicates a marriage as lasting as eternity. Other women may wear a ring as tight as the skin, yet it will leave scarcely a streak on the flesh. In that case look out for an early termination of the contract."

The other women present said nothing, but all improved the first opportunity to slip their rings around and inspect the telltale mark. The faces of some wore an expression of satisfaction, others of disappointment, but nobody knew the reason therefor.

For the Improvement of Boots.

The inside of banana skins is excellent for polishing brown boots, having the effect of removing stains as well as producing a bright surface.

An excellent polish for kid boots is made by beating the whites of two eggs with an equal quantity of water and a lump of sugar candy.

Weak soda and water will have the effect of darkening brown boots. A black boot which is rubbed well with a freshly-cut potato will take a higher gloss than one which has blacking applied straightway.

Squeaking boots should have their soles soaked in linseed oil. The treatment will cure the noisy trouble and also render the footwear waterproof.

A New Way to Soften Doughnuts.

Doughnuts are very apt to become hard a few days after cooking. If they are put in a dish and placed in the oven from five to seven minutes one will find them as delicious as when first cooked. Do not moisten them for then they will become soggy.

SPECIAL NOTICE TO TAX-PAYERS

TAXES ARE HIGHER THIS YEAR!

Many will question the amount of their taxes and ask concerning their personal property assessments and land appraisal. Mistakes will occur where the assessment of property and the extending and collecting of taxes are done by many different officers.

The Treasurer and Auditor will cheerfully correct all mistakes for which they are responsible and the county assessor will explain the assessment of personal property and where possible adjust it in error.

Taxes are due Jan. 1 and payable at this office in full, or at the option of the taxpayer, one-half including road taxes, on or before the first Monday in May, 1913, (being fifth day) and the remaining one-half on or before the first Monday in November, 1913. Road tax receipts must be presented on or before the first Monday in May or they will not be credited, as the law requires that the road tax be included in the first installment only.

If the first installment of taxes is not paid within the limit set by law the taxes for the entire year become due and delinquent and with penalty is extended by the Auditor and charged to the Treasurer. The state is interested in this extension and the Auditor and Treasurer are both personally liable for any penalties that might be refunded.

Under no circumstances can the Treasurer alter the duplicate. He can make no reduction in taxes and he can not refund money once paid in. Errors must be corrected through the Auditor's office.

As the Treasurer can not know the location of each person's property, tax payers should designate the property on which they wish to pay, and see that all property is included in their receipt. If they have land in more than one township or corporation, or desire to pay taxes on lands or lots not in their name, call the Treasurer's attention to the matter, carefully examine receipts, see if they describe all property (personal and real) and are otherwise correct before leaving the office, and if any errors are evident have them corrected at once.

The Tax Duplicate is not a transfer book and when, for any year, the Tax Duplicate is made with reference to the property on the first day of March or said year, the duplicate remains forever unchanged as to showing of property and in whose names changes on the transfer books or prompt recording of deeds to the contrary notwithstanding.

Property will appear in same name for the payment of the second installment. Assignees, Guardians, Administrators and others who pay taxes on property in trust, and persons whose taxes are complicated, such as undivided estates, etc., are earnestly requested to settle such taxes before the last few days, as it requires considerable time to make divisions and separate receipts. Thus avoid mistakes which might happen during the rush of the last few days of taxpaying.

"All property, both Real and Personal, shall be liable for the payment of all taxes, penalties, interest and cost charged to the owner thereof in such county, and no partial payment of any such taxes, penalties, interest or costs shall discharge or release any part or portion of such property until the whole is paid, which lien shall in no wise be effected or destroyed by any sale or transfer of any such personal property, and shall attach on the first day of April, annually for the taxes of such year."—From Section 173, Acts 1891.

All Ditch Taxes and Street Improvements must be called for separately.

The taxpayer often has personal property and poll assessed to him separately from his real estate especially when the land is in joint title and accordingly must have a receipt therefor.

Delinquent taxes must be paid before the current tax.

The Treasurer will not be responsible for penalties and charges on delinquent taxes, resulting from omission of the person paying such tax to state definitely on what property, in whose name and in what township or corporation it was assessed.

Very Respectfully,
ARTHUR L. REAT,
Treasurer Putnam County

TALE OF A TOOTH

[Original.]

Bobbin was getting desperate. Something had to be done, but what?

To have a small wisdom tooth stand between him and success might look like comedy, but it was tragedy to Bobbin. That it was a sensitive tooth he had no doubt, for he was never unusually busy that the tooth did not sense it at once and start to jumping. After that Bobbin did the jumping.

The tooth itself belonged to Mrs. Bobbin. No word of Damocles could have threatened as did that one small tooth. When Bobbin was ready to do some important task the tooth seemed to know it intuitively. His wife would come to his office crying: "Oh, Bob, I am afraid my tooth is going to ache."

He would say: "Better have it cut, pet." Thereupon would come tears and lamentations. "You seem to want your wife hurt—don't you love me?" she would wail. With that pretty face so near his own Bobbin had not the nerve to insist. So he continued to fill the hot-water bag and make resolutions in regard to next time—which he never kept.

Then some highly necessary duties pressed upon him. With them came a brilliant idea. He would send his wife to New York to visit her mother. At that safe distance he could be firm and could insist upon her having the tooth pulled. He simply must not let that tooth interfere with this work which he had to do.

The propitious moment arrived when the tooth was at its best and he hurried Mrs. Bobbin to the train. "I hope my tooth won't ache on the train—if it does they'll just have to bring me back," said Mrs. Bobbin at parting.

Bob mentally thanked his stars that he had not bought a return ticket. He hurried to his office and worked frantically until the light failed him. Then he was just beginning to feel lonesome and brand himself a coward and a brute, when this telegram came:

"Albany, N. Y., May 21.—F. Bobbin, Chicago: Tooth aching. Send money to return. SUE."

Now was the time to be firm. He sent the following:

"Chicago, May 21.—Mrs. F. Bobbin New York: Sorry, dear. See Gillson at once. Am sending special letter to you in his care. Bob."

Dr. Gillson was a neighbor of her mother's and an excellent dentist. Bobbin wrote Dr. Gillson a few lines, explaining his trouble and telling him to be firm and gentle but to pull the tooth.

He went at his work with renewed energy, for everything would be all right now.

Next day came another telegram: "Gillson says have it out. Will see another dentist."

He rushed to the telegraph office and sent the following to her: "You must do as Gillson says. Courage, dear."

Late that evening another message reached him which said: "Mrs. Bemis' dentist says crown it. Know it will hurt. What shall I do?"

He did not answer this. He hadn't time. Anxiety and telegrams had not steadied his hand. He had reckoned without Mrs. Bobbin.

Another wire soon came from her: "Mrs. Simpson's doctor says go to his sanitarium for nerves and treat tooth; $25 per week. This best."

Bobbin groaned and interviewed a local dentist. Then he telegraphed:

"Dentist here says Gillson right. Decision final."

He was now in such a condition that whenever anybody came near he jumped as if expecting a blow. The boy with the messages had become terribly familiar. Bobbin's hand shook as he opened the next one: "Gillson says sanitarium is where rich men send wives to get rid of them. Why do you advise it? Shall see another specialist."

"Great guns!" roared Bob. "Why does she think I want her to try a sanitarium at $25 for one foolish tooth?" Then he sent a special delivery letter and a short telegram telling her to wait for the letter and not to go to the sanitarium. These had scarcely been dispatched when he received the following: "Doctors don't agree. Sabel says kill nerve. Perhaps sanitarium best."

With lips firmly pressed together, Bobbin sent this message: Have it out. I insist upon Gillson. Don't see more doctors or neighbors. This final."

She answered: "Tooth stopped aching. Why insist on having sound tooth pulled? Coming home."

Bobbin immediately telegraphed to Dr. Gillson: "See wife and pull tooth at once."

Dr. Gillson replied, "collect!"

"Too many opinions in case. Decline to have more to do with it."

Mrs. Bobbin telegraphed to Bobbin: "Tooth all right. Why do you want me hurt? Your telegrams upset me so I need sanitarium."

Bobbin replied: "Wait. Gillson must pull it. Am coming to be with you. Courage, dear."

Mrs. Bobbin declared afterwards that the pulling wasn't as bad as the awful telegrams Bob sent and anyway she was so glad to see Bob again that nothing else mattered.

FOOL WOMEN AT ARMY POSTS

Gen. Corbin Says One of Them Can Do More Harm Than All the Men.

Cincinnati, Ohio.—"One fool woman can make more trouble in an army post than all the officers and men," said Gen. H. C. Corbin, former Adjutant General U. S. A., discussing the Hains murder case.

Gen. Corbin had been asked for his opinion of the sensational stories of orgies at Fort Hamilton, N. Y., as told in the supposed letters of Mrs. Hains to her husband.

"But Mrs. Hains says the letters are forgeries," was the reply.

"Such things are as described as occurring at Fort Hamilton were unknown in my time in the army, and I left it only a year and a half ago," said the General. "It seems incredible that such things could happen, particularly at Fort Hamilton, right under the eye of the Inspector General, right under the shadow of department headquarters, right under the nose of the municipal police."

"But one fool woman can make more trouble in an army post than all the officers and men. We can control the latter, but we cannot control the woman. There were several such cases in my time, and we had to get rid of the officers in order to get rid of the women. I had one such case out in the Philippines, and I had to pursue the only course open to me. 'It is my wife's fault,' said the officer when before me."

"No doubt," I replied; 'but we can't control her and you can't control her, but we can control you.'"

"He resigned. This Hains case is distressing. I understood the marriage was unhappy all the way through. But those letters, they don't seem as letters natural for a wife to write to her husband. They look more like letters manufactured for the purpose of creating sympathy, and, perhaps, furnishing a possible incentive to insanity, temporary or otherwise."

UNKISSED BABY PROTECTED.

Microbe-Laden Adults Not Permitted to Spread Germs to Child.

London, England.—An "unkissed" baby boy is one of the remarkable citizens of Bradford, in Yorkshire. His parents hold strict views on the hygiene raising of children, and have framed a set of rules for visitors who come to see the baby, so as to guard the precious heir from contact with microbe-laden adults.

Displayed conspicuously on the walls of this unique infant's home the following injunctions:

"Don't kiss the baby."

"Don't handle the baby unless your hands are very, very clean."

"Don't bring baby's face close to your own or to your hair."

"Don't allow baby to touch your face or hair."

"Don't talk, breathe, whistle, blow, cough or sneeze into baby's face. We want him to live."

"Don't use your handkerchief to baby's hands, face or mouth."

"To some these rules will appear comical or stupid, but they are not written as a joke or without thought. Therefore any person infringing these rules after having read them will incur our extreme displeasure."

MICROBES AND MEAT EATERS.

Prof. Metchnikoff Warns Against Indulgence in Fleshy Food.

Paris, France.—Dyspeptics, gouty and rheumatic men and sufferers from diabetes are scientifically warned by Professor Metchnikoff that the present popular idea on the danger of eating much flesh is well founded. He reports that the human intestine encloses "putrefying" microbes of at least three classes. One of them, discovered by an American savant, of Belgium origin, is as poisonous, but its toxins act less energetically than that of the American-discovered microbe. This also is the case with the third microbe which was discovered by an English bacteriologist.

REGICIDES WILL FOUND.

Assassin of Carlos Bequeathed His Children His Name and Compassion.

Lisbon Portugal.—The will of Manuel Silva Bulssa—the man who assassinated King Carlos, has been discovered in this city. It was written evidently in anticipation of his death, and gives instructions as to how his children were to be notified of his demise.

He said he had no property to leave his children other than "my name, my respect, and my compassion for those who suffer. I beg that my children be brought up in the principle of liberty, equality, and fraternity, for which they will soon become orphans."

False Teeth, Armor Plate.

Selingsgrove, Pa.—A great chance for advertising is presented to a dental man here whose false teeth saved the life of Isaac Sprengle, of Middle Creek township, Snyder County.

A glancing bullet, shot by a rabbit hunter, punctured Sprengle's lower lip, and would have penetrated the roof of his mouth had not its momentum been arrested by striking a stout set of false teeth.

Swap 100 Horses in 100 Minutes.

Americus, Ga.—The annual meeting of the Horse Swappers' Association was held in Americus, one hundred horses being swapped in as many minutes. More than a dozen counties were represented.

THE GOOD COW.

Truth Not Always at the Bottom of a Big Milk Well.

The average dairyman is not as smart as he thinks he is and cannot tell a good cow or a bad one under all circumstances by looking at her, by pinching her hide, pulling her teats and with his hand following the tortuous course of her milk veins to their end in the milk well.

It is possible for a well bred cow to inherit a great many of the points that we have come to look for in a good dairy cow and still fail in her performance. I think I state a fact that experienced breeders of cows will concede as beyond controversy that into no breed of cows has man yet been able to so prepotently fix the habit of proper milk giving that the tendency to the exercise of the habit may not be perverted or permanently arrested by the early injudicious care of the offspring as a calf and as a heifer and even up into the cowhood—that is to say, a calf may be from an excellent dam and a great sire and be seriously spoiled in the making of her into a cow. Such a one might carry many marks which the judges of cows would look upon with favor and she still be a failure.

Having got good cows we need to keep them good and as far as possible make them better.

There are many so called dairy-men who keep their cows just as we work with a gasoline engine. They think as the cow is a machine she needs to have the current on only when she is working. When the cow is "fresh" she is at her best and one may save feed on her, as at that time she will do well any way. When this period of natural activity begins to wane and the flow of milk, reduces itself to the level of its source, there isn't much use of feeding heavily then, for a cow that doesn't pay for generous feeding, should not have it. In consequence of such mechanical dairying, when milk is high the cow is kept by ruffiance and might cheap feed against the coming of pasture.

Why does this cow fill her udder and the milk's pail when the sun shines and the breeze is soft and the clear waters run and the grass is green and plentiful in the pasture? Simply because the cow is comfortable, has sun and air to make her good red blood, has all the pure water she wants to drink and all the rich, nutritious grass she can eat. Her nutrition is both balanced and abundant and her environment such that the wonderful functions of her organism are in perfect normal operation.

If my cows are to carry on through the fall the good work they inaugurated in the spring pasture there must be no diminution in feed or attention. If they are to keep at it all winter and spring and even do their best at early pasture there must be always the full and sufficient feed and unremitting care.—By W. M. Sparra, before Connecticut Dairy-men's Association.

Cost of Keeps.

Cows vary in their cost of keep as well as in their ability to use economically the food consumed. Those of a decided dairy type will return the greatest profit when fed to full capacity. The average cost of feeding a dairy cow in this western country, as shown by recent records, is about $20 a year and the total value of butter fat is about $70, leaving an average of about $40 for labor and profit, in addition to the value of the skim milk, the calf and the manure. It is fair to presume that the calf, skim milk and manure will balance the labor required to care for the cow so that the net earnings therefore, would be $40 a year. This ratio should be maintained for forty or fifty cows with the ordinary help on a ranch and the profits can be figured proportionately. If the right kind of stock is kept. The trouble, however, is that we do not keep the right kind of stock and our methods are not always the most praiseworthy.

Feeding Dairy Stock.

Our dry farming settlers will in time get along all right when they shall have learned the utility of a few foreign crops fed to dairy stock. They can grow kaffir corn, dwarf broom corn, milo maize and sorghum as forage for winter and if they can add some alfalfa and the tops and stems of sugar beets so much the better. In this connection we would like to add that kaffir corn causes the butter to come in small particles which are very difficult to press together. This is a characteristic of the feed and is not due to any bitter flavor that it might cause but the feeding of alfalfa will overcome the difficulty.

To Remove Obstruction.

One part tincture of iodine and eight parts sweet oil or vaseline, applied externally, will sometimes remove obstructions in the cow's teat. Make the application once each day directly over the obstruction and massage well to rub the mixture into the pores.

It is estimated that the Kaffirs in the diamond mines at Kimberly, South Africa, steal $11,250,000 worth of diamonds in a year.

Journal.

There will be a meeting of the Modern Woodmen council at 7:30 o'clock this evening.

Miss Mayme Kirk, Miss Effie Kirk,
Miss Dona Sauters and Leo Locker, Indiana university students, were here yesterday on their way to Bloomington from Grandview, Spencer county. They were compelled to go to Louisville from their homes and from there to Indianapolis, thence here and south on the Monon to Bloomington.

The Monon probably will not run trains south of Bloomington until Thursday. The local agent stated this afternoon that the wash-outs south of Bloomington were so many and so bad that it will require at least two days yet to make the repairs necessary to resume traffic.

Mrs. R. A. Ogg, who has been visiting at Mitchell and who has been delayed from returning home on account of the floods is expected home either tomorrow or Thursday.

C. A. Kelley went to Indianapolis, on business, this morning.

Mr. Butterfield and Mrs. Barnum will give an ensemble recital in the Music hall tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock to which the public is invited.
Mrs. Barnum and Mr. Butterfield will be assisted by a string quartette.
Several organ numbers are included in the program.

At about noon today the postoffice received the largest amount of first-class mail it has received in many months. The mail was a part of the eastern mail which has been tied up by the floods for the past week.
When it finally did reach Greencas-tle today it came in large quantities and it kept the postal clerks busy getting it distributed.

Charley Bell received a letter today from his wife, who is visiting her parents in Guthrie, Ind., which is near Bedford, stating that on last Monday night the waters of Salt
Creek rose so rapidly that her parents and herself were driven from their home so hurriedly that they could not save any of their effects.
The family sought safety on the high land soon enough to escape with their lives. The next morning only the roof of the house was above water.

The first Monon train from Chicago to enter Greencastle since last Tuesday morning came in this afternoon. The repairs have been made on the road between Lafayette and Chicago.

Mrs. A. L. McCarty, of Cloverdale, spent the day in Greencastle.

Miss Mona McAllister will spend this evening in Terre Haute.

Marvin M. Ooley, of Brazil, and Angela M. Corey, who lives near Reelsville, were married in Brazil
last week.

Fashion Water Sale

One-third to one-half
off on very slightly damaged goods; many not damaged to hurt. Those badly damaged at any old price.

Remember that Spring goods go just the same in this sale.

The merchants of Filmore held an opening today and a fair-sized crowd was in attendance.

Still going! All the men's and boys'
hats and caps in the sacrifice water
sale at the Fashion.

DON'T BE AN APRIL FOOL

Be a wise man—play a joke on Father Time by depositing your money where it will draw you the very HIGHEST RATE OF INTEREST CONSISTENT WITH SAFETY. Prepare for old age, sickness and adversity by starting a Savings Account at the "Home for Savings"

Man's Opportunity

and the wiser you are the sooner you will take advantage of our exceptional offer to pay you this high rate of interest on deposits. The large number of new depositors who have taken advantage of this offer, is sufficient evidence of the merits of our plan of a dividend paying investment.

This proposition is not to be confused with that of loan associations, and investment companies. This is a strictly bona-fide offer of a high class, well organized, and SAFE
